LAWRENCE UNDER FIRE OF COUNSEL

Is Subjected to Rigid Cross-Examination by State's Attorneys.

HERES STRICTLY TO ORIGINAL STORY

Special Somewhat at Variance With Testimony of Other Witnesses.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 18.—Edward Lawrence, defendant with Fred Walker in the murder of Dr. Earl S. Beers, was subjected to a rigid cross-examination by S. T. Corn of special attorneys for the prosecution, who failed to determine any vital discrepancies in the testimony of the witness. The whole of the morning session was occupied by the cross-examination.

Lawrence's story was materially the same as his testimony. He described the fight between Walker and Beers in a room of the store of the Elmer and Supply company, who failed to establish in rebuttal of the testimony of other witnesses. The entire cross-examination was devoted primarily to establishing Lawrence's details of the case as he related. He adhered to the original statement.

Attorneys Clash.

Lawrence participated in a warm exchange of compliments when Judge Maginnis, who presided over the trial, stated that the defense was responsible for the absence of Russell Harrison, one of the European hotel, who failed to appear at the afternoon session. Mr. Harrison arose angrily and said the reason was an insult and he would fight back into the face of counsel. "The defense attorney," he said, "has conducted himself as a gentleman throughout the trial, but no gentleman would make such a remark, and I desire to except the statement."

Mr. Hutchinson called for the witness, who did not respond. Sheriff Selberg put on the stand and examined as usual effort he had made to secure the witness.

THIS IS SAID TO HELP MANY

Mix This Simple, Helpful Recipe at Home and Try it, Anyway.

Get from any prescription pharmacy the following:
 1. Half Extract Dandelion, one-half
 2. Compound Kargon, one ounce
 3. Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three
 4. Make well in a bottle and take a
 5. teaspoonful after each meal and at
 6. bedtime.

It is considered by an eminent authority as the finest prescription ever written to relieve backache, Kidney Trouble, Weak Bladder and all kinds of Urinary difficulties. This mixture promptly on the elimination of the kidneys, enabling them to filter and strain the uric acid and other waste matter from the blood which causes Rheumatism.

Some persons who suffer with the afflictions may not feel inclined to place much confidence in this simple mixture, yet those who have tried it say the results are simply surprising, the relief being effected without the slightest injury to the stomach or other organs.

Mix some and give it a trial. It certainly comes highly recommended. It is the prescription of an eminent authority, whose entire reputation, it is said, was established by it.

ORE TRAIN RUNS AWAY DOWN GRADE

Special to The Tribune.

BINGHAM, Dec. 18.—Three ore cars and an engine were demolished here Wednesday morning about 4 o'clock, by running away on the down-grade track from the Commercial to the Silver Shield mine.

The train had just started down the grade to the Silver Shield mine when the air brakes refused to work, and Engineer McLaughlin called a warning to his crew, composed of Fireman Klein and Brake-men Downey and jumped. The fireman and brakeman followed, and all escaped uninjured. At the bottom of the grade and near the Silver Shield ore cars jumped the track and the engine was stacked up in a tangled mass of wood and steel.

TRIAL OF PETTIBONE DRAWING TO A CLOSE

Special to The Tribune.

BOISE, Ida., Dec. 18.—Today's proceedings in the Pettibone trial were given over almost entirely to the presenting of evidence on the explosion at the residence of Fred Bradley at San Francisco. A portion of this testimony was read from the records of the Haywood case, according to the stipulation entered into between the attorneys for the State and defense.

Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for the defense, was unable to attend the trial today, but it was agreed that the defense would continue its examination of witnesses tomorrow without him. Senator Borah stated that the State would continue its direct evidence tomorrow, and an adjournment will probably then be taken until Monday. Mr. Wilson announced that Darrow was the only attorney prepared to make the opening statement for the defense.

DRY FARM SUPERIOR TO IRRIGATED LAND

Claim Is Made That It Produces Greater Crop, at Less Expense.

Responses to the call of the dry farming congress, which is to be held here January 23-25, continue to come in and among those received Wednesday by Fisher Harris, president of the congress, is one from James Wilson, secretary of agriculture. A list of those from whom responses have been received is being prepared by Mr. Harris, and it is expected that men from west of the Mississippi who are representatives in the dry farming industry will be present.

Mr. Harris is constantly in receipt of communications from people who are interested in the project calling attention to the great results that have been obtained in other states by this method of cultivation and the advantages it holds over irrigation, both on account of the lesser expense involved in producing a crop, and the superior quality of the crop raised.

On the great advantage in dry farming is its superior adaptability to the farming of large areas. The "intensive method" of farming by means of irrigation is the only method which will produce equivalent results, and this method has never been practiced on so large a scale as dry farming. The "intensive method" is used generally in fruit cultivation, where small areas of land are put into an intensely high state of fertility by gentle irrigating methods. Mr. Harris said that as far as he knew, no attempts had been made to apply dry farming methods to fruit culture.

"In this state," he said, "the amount of soil which can be put under cultivation by dry farming will be three times as much as can be made productive by any other method. Dry farming was first successfully undertaken on a much more extensive scale in Wyoming, however, in both localities the results obtained are so great as to give the highest satisfaction to farmers and to assure to its promoters the ultimate redemption of a large part of the so-called desert lands of those states."

An important change in the schedule of the Poplar Grove and West Temple car lines will be made Friday. The Poplar Grove cars will run under a fifteen-minute headway from 6 o'clock in the morning until midnight, with the last car at 12:35 a. m. The West Temple line will maintain thirty-minute service from 6 o'clock a. m. until midnight, with the last car leaving at 12:35 a. m. The change in the route of the Poplar Grove line will provide a service of less than ten minutes on West Temple street as far as Seventh South.

HUTCHINSON STEVENS MAY BE LOST IN HILLS

Hutchinson Stevens of Lovelock, Nev., well known in Salt Lake, is believed to be snowed out in the hills near that place, according to a telegram received by P. C. Stevens, his brother, Wednesday.

Mr. Stevens has left for Lovelock where, with another brother, Charles Stevens of Long Beach, Cal., he will direct the search for the missing man.

Mr. Stevens has been living with a sister in Lovelock. He is a mine prospector and it is believed that he has become lost or snowed out in the hills about his claims. He is thirty years old and unmarried. There is a theory of foul play figuring in the disappearance of the man, but this cannot be substantiated.

WOMAN AND CHILDREN SUE FOR DAMAGES

Tana I. Taylor and three children, one of which is unborn, has filed an action for damages against the Cardfield Smelting company, in the Third district court, to recover $2,500 for the death of Riley Taylor, who was killed at the smelter November 21, 1907. Taylor was burned to death by the explosion of an iron ladle which he was working on. It is alleged that the moist condition of the floor caused the explosion, and negligence is charged on the part of the company for allowing the floor to become damp. George N. Lawrence is guardian ad litem of the children.

UTAH FUEL CASE HAS BEEN POSTPONED

J. R. Letcher, clerk of the Federal court, has dispatched from Washington which states that the case of the United States against the Utah Fuel company has, by consent of counsel, been continued until April. This is to enable both parties to be ready with the depositions. The case was taken in the East by Judge Maynard, special assistant to the Attorney-General, and Attorney E. M. Allison of counsel for defendant. Further hearing of the case will not be resumed on December 19, as was previously determined upon.

Get the Boy Some Tools

While you are getting something in the way of toys and playthings for the boy, why is it not wise to get something that will instruct as well as amuse him? Why not get him a set of tools and let him be learning a trade that may some day prove his salvation. The boy must be amused and he will amuse himself by the day and at the same time be learning a valuable trade. It will be very easy for you to select a set from the following:

Boys' Tool Chests

We have some very fine assortments of wood-working tools, carefully selected and put up in nice chests, at prices within the reach of all. Remember your own boyhood and see that the youngster has what he desires above everything else. Every tool practical.

Scroll Saws

Let the boy learn to do fancy cabinet work. Get one of our Scroll Saws, which cost but a trifle, but do the work of a high-price machine. A practical machine.

Companion Sets

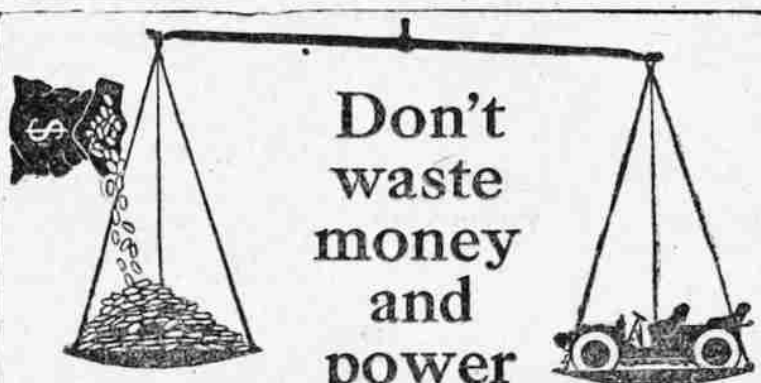

Do your own odd jobs for which a carpenter would charge you a large fee. Our Companion Sets contain a complete set of practical tools of the best quality. Every man should have a set. Come in and see how very cheap a combination of good tools can be had. All the best of steel.

Wood Lathes

We have a manual training lathe which is manufactured to sell low, but which will do all the work which can be done on any machine. Foot power. Made on purpose for the use of learners. Better see them.

MR. MAN-OF-THE-HOUSE: Now is a good time to get some of the many handy little carpenters' tools which you have found use for during the past year. We handle everything in the way of carpenters' and woodworkers' tools and sell them either in sets or separately. You will be unable to find a more complete line. We have what you want. Open evenings until Christmas.

THE Salt Lake Hardware Co.

Don't waste money and power with a heavy automobile.

It takes gasoline and power, ability. Excess weight bears down on tires and wears them out—expense. The heavy water-cooled automobile has more parts to get out of order—more expense.

The light-weight air-cooled Franklin weighs a great deal less than any other automobile of its power. No unnecessary weight to cut down speed and ability on hard roads and hills. The smallest cost for fuel and tires. And very little cost for maintenance and repairs.

Demonstrations by appointment.
